We are pleased to announce the immediate availability of Qobuz connect on all B.audio devices with a network input: the Alpha One and all DACs incorporating the EX streaming module.

This new feature will allow you to control your device directly via the Qobuz application available on mobile and tablet (iOS and Android), PC and Mac.

To benefit from Qobuz connect, you will need to update your device: See instructions

If you don't have a Qobuz account, you can take advantage of a 2-month free trial thanks to our partner offer:
